

Has, Have, Had

Rewrite the following sentences using has, have or had correctly.

1. My little sister have always liked to copy me a lot.

---

2. Taran have taught us swimming.

---

3. I has been singing for half an hour.

---

4. Ram and Sita has been renowned mythological characters.

---

5. Opening the curtains have allowed more sunlight to come in the room.

---

6. The school bus have been late for a few days in a row now.

---

7. They has a good strategy to win.

---

8. She have fever yesterday.

---

9. He have been working on his college applications.

---

10. I have thought of this idea last evening.

---

Answers

1. My little sister has always liked to copy me a lot.
2. Taran has/had taught us swimming.
3. I have been singing for half an hour.
4. Ram and Sita have been renowned mythological characters.
5. Opening the curtains has allowed more sunlight to come in the room.
6. The school bus has been late for a few days in a row now.
7. They have a good strategy to win.
8. She had fever yesterday.
9. He has/had been working on his college applications.
10. I had thought of this idea last evening.